Senior Documentation Engineer | Technical Writing & Documentation Operations

I bring more than 20 years of technical writing and documentation experience, including about 13 years of direct people management. My work combines product documentation, content governance, information architecture, analytics, docs-as-code, and AI-assisted workflow tooling.

Meta — Senior Documentation Engineer

July 2023–July 2026

- Led documentation operations for internal recruiting products across the hiring lifecycle, from sourcing through onboarding.
- Partnered with Product and Engineering, checked implemented behavior before release, and supported 20 user-facing launches through May 2026.
- Reorganized more than 139 high-traffic pages and built a 234-page governance and freshness system to prioritize maintenance.
- Identified documentation workflow problems, designed tool and process approaches, checked results, and used AI-assisted development to build 10 internal documentation and workflow tools with more than 750 automated tests.

Meta — Documentation Engineering Manager

March 2022–June 2023

- Led four Documentation Engineers in an environment with more than 100 Enterprise Engineering products.
- Built centralized SharePoint tracking for more than 400 products and personally created seven automated Tableau dashboards for documentation reporting.
- Led a four-person team that completed 101 content migrations across seven team groups; consolidation reduced 1,157 source pages to 469 destination pages.
- Built migration tracking and content-discovery workflows that saved an estimated 150–200 hours of manual work.

Jack Henry & Associates — Senior Manager of Technical Writing

2021–2022

- Led a 16-person documentation organization of 15 writers and one manager that supported 46 financial-software products.
- Led API and SDK documentation review, structured-authoring and publishing workflows, release work, and delivery oversight.

Jack Henry & Associates — Manager of Technical Writing

2010–2021

- Built and scaled a technical writing team to 14 employees, organized it into four teams, and led hiring, mentoring, performance management, and internship growth.
- Delivered more than 45 product-onboarding workshops and acquired documentation work from more than 30 product groups.
- Built a Power Query reporting process for a 45-person documentation department that supported more than 350 software products and had a six-year reporting backlog.
- Served as product owner for a rewritten request system that handled 2,714 cases after its 2016 release.

Jack Henry & Associates — Technical Writer / Technical Writer, Advanced

2005–2010

- Created core banking product documentation and release content and advanced DITA and XML structured-authoring practices.
- Planned and led a migration of more than 6,000 bank reports to XML and also contributed to the hands-on migration work.

Vinyl Junction — Owner / E-Commerce Content and Operations Manager

2014–Present

- Own and operate an independent Etsy business for vintage music and books; an owner-reported snapshot through October 10, 2026, includes more than $400,000 in cumulative revenue, approximately 837,000 shop visits, and more than 1.1 million listing views.
- Develop and maintain product-content schemas, editorial standards, metadata, taxonomy, and AI-assisted listing workflows with human review.
